

I do not think personal cell phone usage should be permitted on commercial airlines. People talk too loud on cell phones. Sitting next to someone talking non stop for multiple hours would be terribly annoying. Airplanes are uncomfortable enough with not enough personal space.